

Application for Visual and Environmental Studies 98r
Junior Tutorial

Term, 20

Preparation for thesis is begun in studios and seminars and is carried to completion in a VES 99 tutorial during senior year. In rare instances, students needing special preparation not available in regularly offered courses can enroll in an optional junior as well as special projects supervised by individual faculty members (VES 91r). Students can petition for a grant to a VES 98r tutorial. A special budget request form is required and is available from the department office.

After final approval has been given for enrollment, The D.U.S. will need to approve the tutorial on your electronic study card. The D.U.S. will not sign off on the tutorial unless the project is approved by the project advisor (requires signature below).
